I've been autoed and photoed and yachted,
And searched through with purple X rays;
Have been up against it and came down for most it,
Just like all country jays.

I've been victimized, terrorized, sterilized
And shot through a pneumatic tube,
Have been bunced, junked and puncoed
And robbed like a Kent county rube.

I've been Bryaned and Hobsoned and Deweyed,
And Lawsoned like most other men,
But never, no, never was Chadwicked
By a hypnotic, blooming old hen.—Ex.

About 70 friends and neighbors assembled at the home of G. W. Lee west of town last Tuesday evening and pleasantly surprised the occupants, the occasion being Mr. Lee's 47th birthday. Refreshments were served and a pleasant evening was spent.

ELECTRIC ROAD FOR PAW PAW.

Said to be Certain This Summer—Meeting of Citizens Called for Tuesday Evening.

Representatives of the electric line projected by the Dunkley-Williams Co., Messrs. Bardeen, Merriman and others, were in town Tuesday in the interest of the road. They stated positively that the road will be in operation between South Haven and Benton Harbor, and east as far as Paw Paw by midsummer. They did not promise the completion of the Paw Paw-Kalamazoo end of the line this season. We trust their promise will be fulfilled, and we are sure all our people will do what they can to help the project along. There will be no trouble about their securing a reasonable franchise in Paw Paw village and township.

It is stated they will ask no assistance except in securing a right of way, and this aid should be cheerfully extended, as it is certain Paw Paw and vicinity sadly need better transportation facilities.

A citizens' meeting has been called to be held at the common council room Tuesday evening at 7:30, when representatives of the company will be present. Every citizen who has the best interests of Paw Paw at heart should attend.

The Knights of Pythias have accepted an invitation to attend the Presbyterian church Sunday morning, March 12. They will assemble with their ladies at the hall at 10 o'clock.

Mrs. T. R. Harrison and her son, G. W. Tyler, left the first of the week for Charleston, W. Va., for several weeks' visit with relatives. They will also attend the inauguration at Washington.

"My Friend from Arkansas," up-to-date specialties; see the great mob scene, the funny country boy and the Arkansas farmer; fun from beginning to end. At the opera house, Friday, March 3; price 25c, 35c and 50c.

In a letter received by M. J. Coy from his daughter, Mrs. F. R. Wilkey, at Ocean Park, Cal., she said she had just received a call from H. A. Cole, Fenner Hayes, Philo Forsythe and Mr. Packer. Bert is simply carried away with California.

Lucy T. Belknap died at her home west of town last Saturday of heart trouble, aged 63 years. Funeral services were held at the house Tuesday morning, Rev. W. P. Law of South Haven officiating. Interment was in the Wilkey cemetery. She leaves two children besides many old friends and neighbors to mourn her loss.

Monday morning, February 27, 1905, Truman Hill died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Wm. Averill, after a long and painful illness, aged 73 years and nine months. A short service was held at the house at 1 p. m. Tuesday, Rev. C. E. Huffer officiating. The funeral was held at Kalamazoo, Wednesday, and his remains were placed beside those of his wife, who died two years ago.

Ed. Snow, a former Paw Paw boy, who has been working at dentistry at East Tawas, Mich., for several years, was married Monday to Miss Alice Graham at her home in Charlotte. The young couple started immediately on a short tour, stopping for a few days' visit in Paw Paw. Mr. Snow has decided to change his location and the young couple will go to Dakota soon to make their home.

Rev. H. F. Cochrane, the able editor of the Hartford Day Spring, died of heart failure last Thursday evening, aged 68 years. The funeral was held Sunday. Mr. Cochrane was a man of liberal education and attained a high place in both the professions of the ministry and journalism. The True Northerner mourns the death of this veteran of the press, and sincerely sympathizes with the bereaved ones who were bound to him by the closer ties of blood.

Friday night of last week the members of the U. S. club gathered together their sweethearts and some of the other boys' sweethearts and hid themselves eastward to Mrs. Muir's home, where an elaborate banquet was spread, covers being laid for 24. After partaking of the good things before them till space was entirely at a premium, Fremont Olsen as toastmaster introduced the following toasts: "Something from a Poet's Viewpoint," which Wm. Yerington handled in a very pithy and poetic way, and praised and scored his fellow club members to the enjoyment of his listeners. "Clubs" was responded to by Carl Buskirk, who has evidently "entered the race," as he "allowed" that if he held a hand of clubs, "Dad" was always in it; if he held a hand of hearts and won he would be expected to cover it with diamonds; then he would have to draw spades, so as to be prepared to dig for a living. Carl Mosier's toast, "Schoolma'ams," was well handled. He compared them to the different stages of the butterfly, and said that their usual finale would probably be O—Maid. "The Future" by Carey Cole, "Our Friends" by Roy Doud, "Stags" by Chas. Grimes, and "Grit" by Earl Pugsley were all responded to ably, and proved that these young men are making use of their education. Carlos Cole gave a reading and responded to encores. Miss Ione Reynolds sang several solos very sweetly, and Bert Smith gave a number of piano selections which were enjoyed. The guests of the club proclaimed that from the first course of the menu to the last number on the program, the evening was a decided success.
